ABOUT THE SPEAKERS

Tom Stimson, CTS, has worked over 25 years in the communications technology industry. His credits include staged theatrical, industrial, and corporate events. His business accomplishments stretch from Sales and Marketing to Operations and Strategy. Tom is considered a leading expert in the Audio-Visual Industry and is sought both as an author and a commentator. He is serving his second term on InfoComm International's Board of Governors.

André LeJeune, CTS, is InfoComm's Rental & Staging Staff Instructor. André has more than 30 years of staging and presentation expertise. Specializing in staging for national corporations, he has produced projects that incorporate the latest meeting techniques and technologies, including large-scale sound, lighting and video presentation systems. Most recently André was Senior Director of Training at MVP International.
